AN INCREASE IN TOBACCO SALES

In State Last Year Over Previous Year.

Nearly One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Pounds of Weed Sold on Markets Last Year—Car of Cotton Seed Meal Seized by Authorities—Valuable Correspondence of E. J. Hale, Deceased, Turned Over to Historical Commission.

Raleigh, Aug. 17.—During the past tobacco year ending August 1 there were sold in this state 157,628,493 pounds of leaf tobacco in the warehouses according to a report just issued by the State Department of Agriculture, charged by the Legislature with getting sworn reports of sales from all the tobacco markets of the State. The sales for the previous year were 142,228,000 pounds. The sales were on forty-seven markets, there being that number of towns in the state having warehouses in operation for the sale of tobacco. Winston-Salem led with 20,989,688 pounds. Wilson came second with 17,003,464 and Kinston third with 12,130,175 pounds. The others tapered down to Leaksville where the sales were only 207,371 pounds.

The State department of agriculture has seized a car load of cotton seed meal at Gastonia that was shipped into the State by a non-resident mill. It is of inferior quality, having less than the 75 per cent of ammonia in it and having also no tax tag or tag showing analysis. The seizure was by Secretary Elias Carr. The lot of meal will be sold under confiscation September 16.

The correspondence and other valuable manuscripts accumulated by the late E. J. Hale at Fayetteville has just been contributed to the North Carolina Historical Commission by the distinguished son of this honored sire, Major E. J. Hale, the present editor of the Fayetteville Observer, which his father edited for many years before him. The correspondence which comprises about four hundred letters besides other documents, has encountered four fires and shows much damage by fire and water. It is considered a very great addition to the historical records of the state and includes correspondence on issues of the day with such governors as Manly, Holden, Graham, Ellis, Fowle, Caldwell, Swain, Vance and Worth; with Judges Ruffin, Ashe, Battle and Pearson and a great number of distinguished men of the epoch of the State's life in which Editor Hale lived. There has been a steady increase in the number of historical manuscripts collected by the Historical Commission through the efforts of Secretary Connor and others until these with the regular state archives have come to be regarded as among the most valuable and varied in this part of the country.

J. Herbert Baker, Walter Pipkin, Theo and Bill, and long time blockaders in the Holly Springs section of Wake county, were arrested today by United States Deputy Marshal Jordan and committed to jail by Commissioner Nichols for trial in the next federal court. Their distilleries were broken up more than a year ago but they had evaded arrest until now.

Governor Kitchin commissions as representatives for North Carolina in the Atlantic Deeper Waterways convention, Providence, R. I., August 31 to Sept. 3, L. H. Cutler, New Bern; W. K. Jacobson, Washington, and M. N. Sawyer, Elizabeth City.

The Philadelphia Amusement Co., Salisbury, received a charter today with $50,000 by M. L. Jackson and others for general entertainment purposes including theatricals. There is a charter also for the Roanoke-Chowan Telephone Co., of Woodland, Northampton county, for operating lines in Hertford, Chowan, and Bertie counties. D. S. Minton and others are the incorporators.

The Atlantic City Excursion. It is learned from the local ticket office of the Southern Railway that the Pullman space is rapidly being taken up for the Atlantic City excursion which leaves Greensboro 10:40 p. m. Aug. 23. Mr. W. H. McClamery, passenger and ticket agent, states that those who have not already arranged for their Pullman accommodation should do so at once. He says also that the prospect is very favorable for a large crowd from Greensboro and vicinity.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL

All of Miss Anderson's Numbers Were Well Rendered—Assisted by Little Miss Clement.

The following is the program of a very enjoyable piano recital given by Miss Emma Anderson, a pupil of Miss Nina Troy, at her home on Edgeworth street on the evening of 16th of August. Heller, Op. 45 Etude, Op. 45 Bendell, By Moonlight (Rowing by Moonlight to the Isle of Love)

Farrar, Fair Finger Atherton, Sun Shower Beethoven, Sonata—Funeral March Spaulding, Mountain Pink Spindler, Woodland Rivulet Ravina, Etude Miss Anderson was assisted by Little Miss Dorothy Clement, who played the Fairy Fingers and Mountain Pink surprisingly well for a little girl with only one year's study.

All Miss Anderson's numbers were well rendered, the entire program being given from memory. The Beethoven number and the Sun Shower were especially good.

Miss Troy very generously shared the well deserved praise of her pupils work with Mrs. Anderson who until the past year had been Miss Emma's only teacher.

WHITSETT POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Broken Into Tuesday Night and Small Sum of Money Taken.

Whitsett, Aug. 17.—The postoffice at this place was broken into last night, and a small sum of money taken, not over a few dollars. The stamps in the office were not taken.

The office is between the stores of J. Frank Swift and J. D. Oldham, and neither of these buildings were entered. Entrance was effected through a side window by twisting open the window shutter, and then breaking a glass in the window. The money drawer was broken into and it was here that the thief found the small amount of money he got. There are three residences near the office but no unusual noise was heard during the night, and there is no clue as yet to the guilty parties. Mr. W. J. Thompson the postmaster has placed the matter in the hands of the government authorities and it is hoped that the guilty may be apprehended. So far as known no suspicious parties have been in this place and the whole affair is as yet a mystery.

HAY RIDE LAST NIGHT.

In Honor of Visiting Young Ladies—Delightful Time.

A party of young people gave a delightful hay ride last night in honor of Miss Sue Henderson, of Henderson, who is visiting Mrs. J. I. Scales, and Miss Ruth Crawley, of Danville, who is visiting Mrs. Wilson. The party drove out to the Battle Ground and before returning a delicious lunch was served.

Those comprising the party were Misses Henderson, Crawley, Lea, McAdoo, Wharton, Hart and Grubbs; Messrs. Still, Moore, Huffines, Fountain, Cunningham, Copeland and Sharpe. The party were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lea.

Returns To County To Attend Family Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Boone and daughter, Miss Lizzie, of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived last night to visit Mr. Boone's sister, Mrs. M. J. Clapp, on South Elm street. Guilford county is Mr. Boone's old home. This is his first visit back to his native county for twenty three years. He came to attend a family reunion which will be held at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. A. Boone, who lives two miles from the city. All of Mrs. Boone's children and grandchildren will meet with her on the thirtieth of this month.

Went To Lexington To Attend Court.

Officers Isley and Hepler went to Lexington yesterday to attend Davidson county court, having been summoned as witnesses against the negro who some months ago was arrested by Officer Isley for store breaking at Lexington. It will be remembered that the negro jerked the club away from the officer and assaulted him, Mr. Isley receiving a very severe wound on the head.

CASE WORKERS MET YESTERDAY

Quarterly Session Held in Guilford Hotel.

Nearly Fifty Furniture Men Here To Attend Meeting—Association Wants Uniform Rules of Minimum Weight Per Car and Also For Packing and Shipping—Able Address by Mr. J. P. Blake, of Chicago—Next Meeting in November.

At the quarterly meeting of the North Carolina Case Workers Association held yesterday in the assembly rooms of the Guilford about forty-five furniture and chair manufacturers were present. Mr. Fred N. Tate, of High Point, presided and the secretary, Mr. Clarence J. Field, was at his desk.

Several matters of a routine nature were taken up and disposed of and the question of traffic and transportation was discussed at length.

A recommendation was sent to the State Corporation Commission in regard to the minimum weight on carload shipments of furniture and chairs. The association adopted a resolution to be sent to the National Uniform Classification Committee making recommendations as to the uniform rules of minimum weight and rules for packing shipments of furniture and chairs. Instead of the three classifications now in use in the United States, the Southern, Official and Western, the association wants a uniform classification that will govern the shipments to all parts of the country.

The association has heretofore been suggesting the adoption of a minimum selling price for the manufactured products, based on the actual cost of production, the different locations of the factories influencing the cost of production, and many of the members of the association being themselves ignorant of the actual cost of putting their goods in the hands of the retailers.

Mr. J. P. Blake, a production engineer and business economist of Chicago, addressed the members and demonstrated by actual results where some of the manufacturers are placing goods on the market at less than the actual cost of production. Through the influence of his address it is felt that the manufacturers will be awakened to the fact that they must get down to a figuring basis and use a proper method of establishing a price on an article to ascertain the actual cost.

All the members of the association were very optimistic and are looking forward to a big business during the coming fall. There were several applicants for membership in the association. The next meeting will be held in Greensboro in November, when the annual election of officers will be held.

BURNT HIS OWN FACTORY.

Newton Man Charged With Arson—Commissioner Scott Investigating.

Deputy Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott left last night for Newton to look after a case of arson against a man who had his own cotton mill burned. Mr. J. R. Young, state insurance commissioner, has been on the grounds for several days and has had one man arrested for the mill burning and the prisoner has confessed, implicating the owner of the mill.

Mr. Scott returned yesterday from the Davidson county court where he testified against a white man, W. L. Hill, who is being tried for burning a dwelling house in that county last March. Mr. Scott said that he had a strong case against Hill and he was confident that he would secure his conviction.

The Damage Suit.

The argument was completed in the case of Paul Lindley vs. Files Manufacturing & Power Company, in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover $10,000 damages, yesterday afternoon and Judge Lyon will charge the jury this morning. The case has been a hard fought one, the opposing counsel fighting every inch of the ground. The next case on the docket is Hunter Mfg. & Com. Co. vs. Western Union Telegraph Co.

The Baby Opera will be the first "Swell" show of the season. The little folks are all busy with their rehearsals.

ANDERSON HERE FOR LAST TIME

Electricians Come as Musicians Leave.

Kelly's Bunch of Short Circuiters To Play Three Games With Champs—Greensboro Took Final Game From Spartanburg—Greenville Makes It Three From Winston—Anderson Two From Charlotte—Where They Play.

Greenville has the pennant cinched! Charlotte and Anderson will now have the fight that will really be worth watching for second honors. Greensboro, Spartanburg and Winston will battle for the booby prize. Anderson has won 2 of the 3 games this week from Charlotte and Greenville gave Winston a good kick toward the cellar by making it three straight from them. Anderson now has a lead of 10 points on Charlotte for second place and Greensboro is 72 points under Winston for the fourth place—the highest place they can hope to attain—and 34 points under Spartanburg for the fifth round.

Spartanburg is in Winston today battling with the Twins to overcome a lead of 38 points and the Andersonians will be here to fight the locals to hold their lead over Charlotte. Charlotte will be in Greenville to give the winners a series of three battles to oust Anderson. With Greenville leading so far the whole season took a great deal of interest out of the race and the fans are now waking up to the fact that the real battle is now on.

Kelly and his Near-Winners will be here today and Houser and Beusse will probably face Edmunds or McCarty and Brannon.

Yesterday's Game.

Greensboro 4, Spartanburg 0. Mr. Rickard walked for his hundredth time and that was the beginning of the end of Mr. Abercrombie's hopes of winning the last game the Musicians play in this fair city this season for immediately thereafter Mr. Fuller, of the Patriot persuasion, gets an infield hit.

Mr. Doak lands at the first corner safe, thanks to Mr. Harrington's, of the visitors, over-running his bunt. Then Messrs. Bentley and Hicks each hit the ball to places where nobody ain't and the three first mentioned gentlemen become heroes by crossing the home dish. This happened in the first frame.

In the eighth Bentley's hit, and Wideman's wild throw and a fielder's choice puts Bentley across with the fourth run.

In the meantime Dr. Tony Walters had allowed the guests of Manager Hicks to score none, for after allowing Walker, the first man up, to get a three base hit to fatten his batting average he only permitted two other singles during the entire game. His work was superb, he used his head at all points and did not have to work very hard for his shut out. The Champs gave him perfect support, but with the exception of a single quick bit of work by Moran and fast work in center by Rickard it was not sensational but hard, winning baseball. With the stick the Champs got several hits that they overlooked earlier in the season and happened to think about—ten was their allotment. Beusse's pegging and Tony's pitching were the bright features.

The Spartans played a hard game, Wynne and Bales making several sensational stops, but their chief fault was that they simply could not connect with Tony's benders.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Popular Greensboro Attorney To Wed Mooresville Young Lady.

Charlotte Observer: At a charming garden party given by Mrs. H. M. Ummert at the home of her father, Mr. J. Y. Templeton, in Mooresville last evening, the engagement of Miss LaTelle Sherrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrill, to Mr. S. C. Williams, of Greensboro was announced, the affair being one of the most elaborate and charming in the social history of Mooresville.

Owing to the fact that Miss Sherrill has visited quite often in Charlotte, where she is popularly known and greatly admired by a wide circle of friends, this announcement will be received with the greatest interest here. Miss Sherrill is easily one of the most beautiful as well as one of the most cultured and accomplished young women in the State. Mr. Williams is a son of Mr. T. J. Williams, of Mooresville, and a rising young attorney of Greensboro. He was an honor graduate at Davidson and later of the University of Virginia and is one of the best equipped young lawyers in the State.

The wedding will take place in the early fall.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY LILLY.

Held Yesterday Afternoon in Concord—Deceased An Aunt of Mrs. I. H. Eldridge.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lilly, whose death occurred at her home in Concord Tuesday afternoon, was held from the Concord Methodist church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Plato Durham and Rev. T. W. Smith. The interment followed in the cemetery.

Mrs. Lilly was an aunt of Mrs. Irving H. Eldridge, of this city, who was with her aunt when the end came, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge being summoned to her bedside Monday. Until her marriage Mrs. Eldridge made her home with her aunt.

The deceased was 64 years of age and had been an invalid for many years. She was a consecrated member of the Methodist church and until her health failed no one was more devoted to the interests of the church than was Mrs. Lilly. She will be greatly missed by hosts of friends in Concord and other parts of the state.

The Crazy Negro.

Lewis Hall, the crazy High Point negro, who was placed in jail last week pending application for admittance in the insane asylum at Goldsboro, was raving again yesterday, having been quiet during Monday and Tuesday as compared to his usual demeanor. Nothing has been heard from the hospital authorities as to whether or not he will be received as a patient.

Building Permit.

Building Inspector R. H. Milton yesterday issued a permit to J. T. B. Shaw to remodel the Lea flat on South Spring street, this being the building recently damaged by fire. The extent of the improvements is estimated at $2,000.

Hearing Continued.

The only case on the docket in Municipal court yesterday morning was that of John Henry Sanders, colored, who was charged with an assault. The case was continued until this morning on account of witnesses being absent.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL GET BUSY

Time Fixed For The Monthly Meetings.

First Saturday In Each Month—Work of Household Economics Department Will Be of More Interest Than Any Other Department Probably—Mrs. Malone Wheelless In Charge—Some Data About This Department.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Woman's Club of Greensboro it was decided to have the regular club meeting on the first Saturday in every month instead of on the fourth Saturday as heretofore. The next meeting therefore will be on the first Saturday in September. It was also proposed to hold all club meetings—both regular and department meetings—in the morning instead of in the afternoon. This is one of the questions to be settled at the first regular meeting September 3.

While all of the departments will be under wise and capable leadership, and all promise to be as interesting and helpful as it is possible to make them, the Household Economics will appeal most strongly to the average woman, who is, or ever expects to be, (and what woman does not) a homemaker. Mrs. Malone Wheelless has consented to serve as chairman of this department, and her well known reputation for original ideas and practical, up-to-date methods is sufficient guarantee of its success.

In order to put the department on a safe financial basis at the outset, it was decided that a fee of one dollar be charged for membership in this department in addition to the regular club membership dues. This is done to cover the expense of materials used in the demonstrations, some of which are expensive, especially those necessary in the preparation of certain rare dishes which every good housekeeper wishes to serve upon occasion, and which if not exactly right in every detail, are a disappointment and disgrace to the culinary art. To cook is one thing, and to cook right is another. To cook right is what the Household Economics department will teach in a plain, practical way—a way that every woman can understand and put into immediate practice.

It was also decided to limit the membership to such members of the Woman's club as could be comfortably seated in full view of the demonstrations, and that all wanting to join this department must send in their names early to Mrs. C. W. Whitsett.

Mrs. Wheelless is full of enthusiasm and well considered plans for the success of this department. In the first place, typewritten copies of recipes to be used that day will be distributed among the members at every demonstration. There will be short talks at every meeting on general household hints, and question boxes provided for those who are too modest to talk in public. At each meeting, also, reports as to the success of experiments will be heard, and failures, if failures there were, accounted for.

This department will meet twice a month, and the recipes used will be such as are not found in the cook books. Think of getting eighteen lessons—the kind of lessons given here for one dollar—the same course for which ladies in larger cities pay five dollars and for which the demonstrator gets ten dollars a lesson. Mrs. Wheelless, for the good of the cause, gives her time for nothing. Ladies who wish to take advantage of this privilege should send their names at once to Mrs. Whitsett. Remember the number is limited and delays are dangerous.

Mrs. Sue Dodson Dead.

Her many friends in this city will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Sue Dodson, former wife of the late Capt. John Dodson, which occurred in Nashville, Tenn., last Saturday morning. Mrs. Dodson was living with her sister, Mrs. Alexander, when she died. The funeral service was conducted by Dr. Weaver, a former resident of this city, and the interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery at Nashville.

Remember the orphans will give a concert in Smith Memorial building Monday, Aug. 22. Price 25c. children 15c. Everybody come and have a happy hour.

Metamorphosed

By DOROTHEA HALE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The manager of burlesque opera sat at his desk. He had given out that he needed one who could take a woman's part to act, dance and sing. A girl about twenty years old, comely, with a good figure and a bright face, entered.

"Dance?" asked the manager.

The girl replied by pirouetting about in good style.

"Sing?"

She ran the scale. Her voice was a full, round soprano and very sweet. The range was remarkable.

"Act?"

She recited a passage in a well known play.

"You are engaged."

Miss Fredrica Harrow proved a success. She had in her a certain spirit of delivery that was especially appropriate to the parts she took. One role she played was that of a female Mephistopheles. When the audience left the theater after the performance they felt that they had been under the influence of a deliciously bad girl.

One Sunday morning the manager went to church. It is possible for a manager of a burlesque troupe to go to church and with religious motives. But this manager did not go with such motives. He went because he had heard that in the choir was a remarkably fine tenor. The services opened with a tenor solo. The manager was astonished. There was Miss Harrow in man's clothes. He not only recognized her by her face, but through her voice, which was Miss Harrow's lower notes.

But there was one difference between Miss Harrow soprano and Miss Harrow tenor. The latter was as heavenly as the former was devilish. She sang an "Ave Maria," and it seemed that an angel rather than a mortal was praying to the Virgin. The manager did not wonder that the tenor was exciting attention. But he had no use for him in burlesque opera. He expressed the good, and with that the manager was not concerned.

"Where were you last night?" asked the manager the next day when Miss Harrow came to rehearsal.

"At home."

The manager said no more. He had slept over the tenor's identity and had come to the conclusion that he could not be Miss Harrow.

Not long after that a man in his troupe fell sick, and there was no one to take his part.

"How low are his lowest notes?" asked Fredrica.

The manager told her, and she said that she thought she could take the part. He also asked her to sing the lower notes, but she said she couldn't jump right into them; she must get it by practice. She left him, agreeing to be ready for the part when required.

Miss Harrow in man's clothes was a very different person from Miss Harrow in woman's clothes. In the first place, instead of singing the part in a low soprano voice, she sang it as a tenor. In the second, she made a failure in her action. Instead of being adapted to burlesque, she sang as if she were in oratorio.

"What the dickens is the matter with you?" said the manager after the first act. "Your singing is all right—indeed, it's a wonder for a woman—but you act as if you were preaching a sermon."

Miss Harrow hung her head and looked hurt. However, she finished the performance, and before the manager could catch her to find any more fault with her she had gone home. But the next day when she went into the theater he tackled her.

"There was something funny about your work last night. How did you get down to a real baritone, and what made you act like a clergyman?"

"I told you that with a little practice I could do the low notes, and, as for my acting, the part is different from those I've been playing. It is not a rollicking role."

"And it wasn't taken out of a hymn book, either."

"I'm sorry. I thought I could take baritone parts sometimes."

"So you can, but not where there's any devilry in them."

In a few weeks the regular baritone was down again.

"I think," said Fredrica, "I can take that role. It's more serious."

"Who'll take your part?"

"I think I can take them both."

"Nonsense!"

"I'll show you how it can be done to-morrow at rehearsal." And she tripped away.

When the rehearsal came and the manager went on to the stage to conduct it he was more bewildered than ever. There were two Fredrica Harrows, fine and superfluous.

"How's this?" asked the manager, staring from one to the other.

"Permit me," said Fredrica, "to introduce my twin brother, Frederick Harrow. He has a tenor voice."

Then she admitted that she had substituted him for herself in the man's part; that while she was all frolic he was religiously emotional.

"Well," said the manager, "I want you two. I have a scheme for an opera involving a transformation scene, man metamorphosed to woman and woman metamorphosed back to man. You two will do it to perfection."

And so it was that the twins appeared in a part prepared for them and reaped a harvest. The opera was called "The Devil and the Saint."

By his sojourn in Africa Mr. Roosevelt seems to have added to his reputation as a faunal naturalist and subtracted from it as a politician.

On account of his pernicious activity in politics Mr. Roosevelt ought to retire from the editorship of a supposedly non-partisan journal.

The aviators say that there is less danger in flying high than in flying low, but this rule won't work figuratively.

Mr. Cannon says his kind of Republican is the right kind and the Democrats are only hoping that a majority of the Republicans will agree with him.

Speaker Cannon has announced his candidacy for the Speakership of the next House. Uncle Joe has plainly made up his mind to hold on until he is tried loose.

The Catawba County News lands a high class newspaper man in the person of Mr. George F. Cochrane, formerly of the Lexington Dispatch. He has done some excellent work on the Dispatch.

The Republicans of Tennessee have nominated B. W. Hooper for Governor. Gov. Patterson, Democrat, is running against him. Against Patterson many of the Democrats are deeply embittered because of his defiance of the State Supreme Court as displayed by his pardoning of Col. Duncan B. Cooper, the slayer of Carmack. But when the Democrats don't deserve to win, it is a good thing for them to get beaten.

The "old guard" of the Republican party in New York doesn't like Mr. Theodore Roosevelt. It doesn't begin to think that the world is dependent on him or continued existence. Three times since he returned from Elba it has set him naught. He told the General Assembly that he should like to see the direct primaries bill passed. The assembly passed it not. He failed in his move to have his nephew nominated as a candidate for the Legislature from Herkimer county, New York. Lately he was recommended for temporary chairman of the Republican State convention next month. When the committee came to make the choice he was defeated by a vote of 20 to 15, "Dollar Jim" Sherman being chosen in his stead. This snubbing of the strenuous ex-President will have a wholesome effect for too many people were beginning to feel that he was the whole show.

Atlanta, Aug. 14.—By the use of heavy autos as battering rams, the Atlanta police scattered a mob of several hundred men who had grown riotous while discussing the relative merits of Hoke Smith and Joe Brown, who are candidates for gubernatorial nominations.

"Grown riotous" over the merits of a couple of candidates! Really the folks take candidates too seriously. Isn't it the part of wisdom to realize without delay that there are possibly worse calamities than the defeat of one's favorite candidate? Wouldn't it be well for a man to cultivate a little selfishness with respect to the candidates and join the don't worry club as regards the man who is seeking an office? There have been many slurs cast at the man who prayed for "us four and no more," but he is not much worse than the man who forgets all about the four and grows riotous in contentions as to the merits of his preference for political honors.

The Democrats of Georgia ought to be able to choose between Hoke Smith and Joe Brown with calmness instead of with turmoil and excitement.

Mr. Roosevelt's mother was a Georgian and so it is only natural that he should feel more than ordinarily friendly to the South and, agreeable to this feeling, should accept an invitation of the Southern Commercial Congress to make an address to that body. In accepting the invitation, he wouldn't have been Roosevelt the consummate politician, had he not taken advantage of the opportunity to pen some well turned phrases complimentary to the South and to call attention to the need in the South for constructive statesmanship—a variety of statesmanship which our Republican friends by the way think they have a monopoly on. When a conspicuous Republican like Roosevelt writes a long letter full of flattering comment on the South, the inevitable result is that some of the more impulsive Southerners, particularly the young men, develop right away a yearning to touch elbows with him politically. But one ought not to be carried away by the impulse of the moment, but on the contrary should remember that no matter how high-minded a man T. R. is (and it has been shown that he is pretty much of a practical politician after all) the Republican party is not controlled by men of the Roosevelt type, but by the Aldriches and the Cannons.

Right!

Dreams of Genius.

An interesting book might be written on the subject of the dreams of genius. Stevenson maintained that much of his work was only partially original. His collaborators were the brownies who ran riot through his brain during the hours of sleep. He instances the case of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." "I had long been trying to write a story on this subject," he writes, "to find a body, a vehicle for that strong sense of man's double being which must at times come in upon and overwhelm the mind of every thinking creature. For two days I went about racking my brains for a plot of any sort, and on the second night I dreamed the scene at the window and a scene afterward split in two, in which Hyde, pursued for some crime, took the powder and underwent the change in the presence of his pursuers. All the rest was made awake and consciously, although I think I can trace in much of it the manner of my brownies."—London Chronicle.

Opportunities and Limitations.

The world is full of opportunities. The world has a place for all kinds of people. If a man look no higher than pickax or hod, but be industrious, the world can use him. The opportunities for the man who has spent the least time in school, getting only the practical studies, are better and higher than come to him of the hod, but such a man soon reaches his limit. He is on a short ladder. The one who has laid the foundation of a broad general education as well as a technical one has, given intelligence, industry and loyalty, practically no limit to his career.—K. U. Graduate Magazine.

A Hard Problem.

A certain debating society is discussing the question as to which is the angrier, the husband who goes home and finds that the dinner is not ready or the wife who has dinner ready and whose husband does not come home. It is believed that the debate will end in a draw.

Not Always.

ROOSEVELT WILL FIGHT.

Contest For Temporary Chairmanship of State Convention Will Go Into Primaries.

New York, Aug. 17.—There was marked calm today over the troubled waters of the Republican political sea following the storm yesterday when the "old guard" in the State committee voted down Theodore Roosevelt's name for temporary chairman of the coming state convention. No one was prepared to say how things would shape themselves during the days intervening between now and the state convention, where the delegates after all will finally determine who shall be chosen.

New York County Chairman Griscom, who presented Colonel Roosevelt's name to the committee yesterday, says the fight will be carried to the primaries and to the convention.

That Colonel Roosevelt intends, as a delegate to the state convention from Nassau county, to urge a progressive platform and candidate for governor is clearly indicated, politicians say this morning, in that portion of the Colonel's statements issued last night which says that a speech by him "would be of such character that it might help if the convention nominated the right kind of a man on a clean cut progressive platform, but it would hurt if neither the right kind of a man were nominated nor the right kind of a platform adopted."

Judge Jones Resumes the Practice of Law.

Winston Sentinel: Judge E. B. Jones, who was on the Superior Court bench for nearly eight years, has resumed the practice of law in this city, his office being in the Jones building, next to the postoffice.

Judge Jones was recognized as a lawyer of exceptional ability before his elevation to the bench and it goes without saying that, in taking up again the active work of his profession, he will enjoy a large practice and will continue to add to his reputation as a strong advocate and a wise counsellor.

Have you corns or callous? If so we can offer you instant relief.

We have just received from New York a shipment of Anticors the Anticor sheds corns and callous off the feet like magic. It don't cut the skin, it does it's work in a minute, and keeps corns away forever. Feet don't need treating, no preparation, nothing necessary except to move the Anticor over the corns or callous and in a few seconds it's gone. A child can operate it. It doesn't matter whether the hand is steady or unsteady for the Anticor won't cut anything except the corn or callous.

Come in today and get an Anticor. It only costs $1.00. After you've used it you can have your money back again if you ask for it. No argument as to why or wherefore, just ask for the money and get it if you want it.

Thousands of people say the Anticor is the greatest blessing to mankind that has ever been put on the market. It is going to relieve the pain of a nation, and if you have corns or callous it will relieve yours.

Don't fail to come in and get one today.

Had Fine Trip.

Aubrey Haynes and Otis Dorsett returned yesterday afternoon from a bicycle trip to Baltimore, Pittsburg and Norfolk. The boys traveled about 900 miles on their wheels and were fortunate in not meeting with a single accident, barring a few punctures. There were somewhat retarded in their progress on account of muddy roads, but otherwise they report a most delightful trip.

Mrs. I. C. Wright, of Clinton, stopped over yesterday afternoon in the city, and was the guest of Mrs. I. W. Murphy for a few hours, leaving last night for Winston to visit friends for a few days.

A CURIOUS WILL.It Forces a Happy Family Under Peculiar Conditions.

An extraordinary will has been left by an elderly unmarried lady who died in Vienna. Her property, amounting to about $50,000, is appointed to be divided between her three nephews, now aged twenty-four, twenty-seven and twenty-nine, and her three nieces, aged nineteen, twenty-one and twenty-two, in equal parts on the following conditions:

The six nephews and nieces must all live in the house formerly inhabited by their aunt, with the executor, a lawyer, whose business it will be to see that the conditions of the will are strictly observed. None of the nephews is to marry before reaching his fortieth year or the nieces before their thirtieth, under the penalty that the share of the one so marrying will be divided among the others.

Further, the six legatees are admonished never to quarrel among themselves. If one should do so persistently the executor is empowered to turn him or her out of the house and divide the share as in the case of marriage.

The executor is himself forbidden to marry or to reside elsewhere than in the house with the legatees as long as he holds his office, to which a handsome remuneration is attached.

The old maid is said to have made this peculiar will because her nephews and nieces continually worried her during her life by asking her to give them money to enable them to marry, requests she always refused.—London Express.

OLD MAN HARE.The Actor's Meeting With Gladstone Outside the Theater.

John Hare, the eminent English actor-manager, said that the most delightful compliment he ever received was from Mr. Gladstone. It was a double ended compliment. Whichever way you took it it was satisfactory.

Mr. Hare earned fame playing old men's parts, his character as Mr. Gold in "A Pair of Spectacles" being a good example. Added to this was a horror of having his picture taken.

Mr. Gladstone had never seen a picture of the actor, but he knew him well behind the scenes as well as before the footlights. The premier's favorite play was "A Pair of Spectacles," and he always went behind the scenes to chat awhile with the actor. The really old man and the made up old man would sit there and talk in the most delightful way for an hour after the show.

One day the Earl of Rosebery had Mr. Gladstone to dinner, and he also invited his friend John Hare. The actor came in smooth shaven, looking about thirty-five. He was presented to Mr. Gladstone, and the prime minister shook his hand most cordially and said:

"My dear sir, I am very, very glad to meet you. I know your father very, very well. Splendid actor! Fine old man!"

It took the whole evening for the earl and Mr. Hare to convince him that this son was really the father.

Reason and Instinct.

A certain north country miner was particularly proud of a clever little dog he possessed. At times he was apt to claim a little too much for his pet, and one morning a neighbor was endeavoring to point out the difference between instinct and reason when an amusing interruption occurred. A seedy looking tramp turned the corner, and the dog, without so much as a word from his master, sprang into the road and offered battle.

"There you are," laughed the miner as the dog snarled and snarled under the heels of the tramp. "E don't like the looks of the chap. That's instinct." Suddenly the tramp turned and kicked the dog into an adjacent field. "There you are," ejaculated the miner's friend grimly. "The chap don't like the looks of the dog. An' that's reason."—London Tit-Bits.

Two Strange Coincidences.

A structure known as Stoodley Pike, which stands ninety yards high and is situated near Hebden bridge, England, has a remarkable history. It was built in 1814 to commemorate the peace of Ghent. Singular to relate, however, it fell on the very day that the Russian ambassador left England prior to the Crimean war. Rebuilt by public subscription, it withstood storm and rain for half a century, but on the same day that the British government issued its ultimatum to the Boers it was struck by lightning and badly damaged. These unique coincidences have strangely perplexed local people.—Strand Magazine.

Pandemonium.

"They are going to lock Jones up for the good of the community."
"What's he done?"
"He's talking of setting Browning's poems to Richard Strauss' music."—Cleveland Leader.

Rather Outspoken.

Young Sportsman—Is it worth my time to fish in this neighborhood? Native—Well, the fish'n' ain't worth nuthin' to speak of; but, then, I don't know what your time might be worth.—Comic Cuts.

Pessimistic.

"What a pessimist Brown is!"
"What's the matter now?"
"He even bewails the fact that he can't live to collect his life insurance."—Detroit Free Press.

Some men can't even find fault with out acting as though they had discovered something to be proud of.

ANOTHER CIRCUS WARJohn Robinson and Ringlings To Fight For Greensboro's Quota of Business.

The general agents for John Robinson's circus were in the city yesterday making arrangements for the appearance of the Robinson circus here on September 12. The show will reach here on Sunday and put up on the old show grounds. The Robinson shows are not affiliated with the "circus trust" and as the largest show in the combine, the Ringling Bros. shows, will be here on Oct. 24, Greensboro will see another circus war.

The "opposition brigade" of the Ringling shows will reach town today and banners will be put up on all the available dead walls in town to let the people know that they are coming and ask them to "wait for the big show." This is only the preliminary advertising skirmish for the Ringling shows for three advertising cars will follow the first brigade and the country for a radius of twenty five miles around the city will be billed and advertised thoroughly during the next two months.

In addition to the above two circuses the Gentry Bros. dog and pony shows will give two performances here during the latter part of September and will probably use the auditorium as formerly.

Greensboro was on the original route laid out for the farewell tour of Buffalo Bill and his Wild West shows but it is understood that the Buffalo Bill-Pawnee Bill shows have reached an agreement with the trust and will use only the Atlantic Coast Line in this State and will not infringe on the Ringling Bros. territory on the Southern Railway. If the Two Bill's shows do not come this way it is possible that the independent wild west show, Miller Bros. 101 Ranch shows will invade this territory.

CHARLOTTE ENTHUSED.Over Prospects For Securing Interurban Railway Line.

Charlotte News: Following up the item in yesterday's News to the effect that the Piedmont Traction Company will ask the board of aldermen at its next meeting for a franchise to enter the city with their interurban passenger and freight lines, members of the Greater Charlotte Club got together last night, and agreed that it would be well to have the matter discussed by the citizens in general.

The club, therefore, calls for an open meeting Friday night in the assembly room of the Selwyn when it is desired that all citizens interested in the granting of the franchise which will bring the interurban lines to Charlotte, will freely discuss the matter.

The meeting, while suggested by the club, is intended for the public in general. The matter is being generally discussed by the public on the streets and in the stores.

It is considered, as stated editorially by The News yesterday, of vital importance to the commercial life of the city.

Many Going to Atlantic City.

Mr. R. H. DeButts, division passenger agent for the Southern, was in the city last night. Mr. DeButts stated that the indications were that a large number of Greensboro people would go to Atlantic City on the excursion next Tuesday. Nearly every available berth has already been taken.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO

CURE ECZEMA
Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence, a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription at only 25 cents, will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons. Greensboro, N. C., May 23, 1910.
Mr. T. J. Murphy, Sec. & Treas.,
Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of check for $1,000.00, amount of my first series stock in the Gate City Building and Loan Association which matured recently.

In this connection I would state that I consider Building and Loan stock an excellent medium for saving money. The small weekly or monthly payments makes it very convenient and attractive for young men of moderate means. I figure that I received about 6 per cent interest for the average time on money paid on stock, which in consideration of the small weekly payments, I think a very good investment.

The loan feature is also good for any one wishing to borrow, as the interest is divided into small weekly payments and is hardly missed.

I certainly would recommend buying Building and Loan stock and borrowing money on the same to pay for a home, in preference to paying rents.

Yours very truly,
T. A. GLASCOCK.

May 30, 1910.

Mr. T. J. Murphy, Sec. & Treas. B. & L. Association, City:

Dear Mr. Murphy—"Easy money" is an expression we often hear and seldom realize—the nearest I ever came to "easy money" was when I received your check for $500, being the maturity of 5 shares of stock in the first series in the Gate City B. & L. Association. I scarcely missed the small weekly payments, hence it was almost like "picking it up in the road." Best wishes for your continued success.

Yours truly,
J. H. WHEELER.

Greensboro, N. C., June 3, 1910.
Mr. T. J. Murphy, Sec. & Treas. Gate City Building & Loan Association, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: I wish to extend my hearty congratulations upon the successful termination of the first series of your stock. It has been just six and a half years since I subscribed for five shares, and the small weekly payments of $1.25, or about $6.00 monthly, have not been missed. Now I have your check for the handsome sum of $500.00 and I count myself just that much ahead.

This has proved such a profitable investment, as well as such an easy and safe way to save money, that I have concluded to double my investment in your new series, and I take pleasure in handing you my subscription for ten shares.

Wishing you and your company continued success, I am,

Very truly yours,
R. G. VAUGHN.

Mr. T. J. Murphy, Sec. & Treas. Gate City Building & Loan, City:
My Dear Sir—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your check for $502.50, being in full payment of my stock certificate in the Gate City Building and Loan Association for five shares stock.

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of this, as I regard it as practically a saving of what in all probability would have been lost. The small monthly investment has not been burdensome; its returns have been profitable and its results gratifying. It has taught some lessons of economy that possibly I would not have learned but for the stated periods of payment. It has rendered a public benefit, in that it has provided means whereby citizens could own their home at the cost of the rent, they were paying. It has been a social impetus, in that it has caused men to pass from the home renting class to that of a home owning class. It has been an economical benefit in that it has provided labor with employment and capital a lucrative investment. It has been a stimulator of business ever since its inception and a rejuvenator of business by maturing at a time when there was needed cash to keep the wheels of enterprise lubricated. In view of these facts it seems to me the duty of every business man and well wisher in the community to invest in this enterprise in order that he may by helping others make a profitable return to himself. I shall, therefore, double my stock in your new series just starting, believing it to be the cheapest and best insurance, the safest and most profitable investment that is offered both to the borrower and the lender.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. H. IRELAND.

Greensboro, N. C., May 28, 1910.
Mr. Thomas J. Murphy, Secretary and Treasurer Gate City Building & Loan Association, N. C.

Dear Sir—As the first subscriber to the stock of your association may I say a word commendatory of the value of building and loan stock to the average man.

The saving influence in our civilization is the home. Properly constituted the home must be housed within four walls that a man may call his very own.

The average man works for a salary, and it is exceedingly hard for him to keep any surplus money on hand. In fact, it is well nigh impossible. However, by paying a small sum each week, he can, through the medium of your association, accumulate a sufficient amount to build a home for himself and for his family. To me this is the great advantage of your association.

If I remember right, the Gate City Building and Loan Association was organized about six and a half years ago, is now in its fourteenth series, and has issued about two thousand shares of stock. To all who would like to build a home on small weekly payments or with rent money, I would advise them to take stock in the Gate City Building and Loan Association.

Yours very truly,
J. M. SIMPSON.

KEELHAULING.

An Old Time Form of Punishment For Offending Sailors.

Very few persons know what keelhauling is, but before the advent of steam it was a recognized form of punishment for offending sailors and more to be dreaded than even the cat-o'-nine tails.

A line was passed beneath the ship from port to starboard side, leaving about a foot of slack under the keel. The unfortunate tar's feet were securely tied together and his arms lashed behind his back. In this helpless condition he was attached to the end of the line and dropped overboard. In the smothering seas to be hauled along under the ship, bumping and scraping against the bottom in the process until he was yanked up on the opposite side. The punishment was repeated until the victim became unconscious from fright or bruises, and sometimes by a refinement of cruelty he was allowed to remain under the ship for a full minute until he was all but drowned. The ship never was stopped while a sailor was being keelhailed, and if sometimes the strain on the line was too great and it parted, leaving him to go down bound and helpless to an ocean grave, nobody was held responsible for his death, but it was reported in the log as an "act of Providence."

Keelhauling was great sport for the captain and mates, but the mariner who once survived the experience took good care never to do anything to merit such a terrible punishment again.—New York Press.

HIS WIFE'S TRIUMPH.

A Memento That Was Inspiring to John Richard Green.

It has been the fate of many men of letters to have ill health besetting them, down as they struggle on toward literary achievements. Thus beset in recent times were Stevenson, Richard Jeffries and J. R. Green. Each of these, it happened, had a high headed wife to keep him up, even to help him with the actual labor of writing. "The Life and Letters of J. R. Green" show forth a great and sweet man. They show, too, a wife whose sympathy and fortitude helped to make his accomplishment possible.

In copying the vast amount of manuscript of her husband's books Mrs. Green contracted writer's cramp, and was forced to stop using her right hand. This looked like a final obstacle in the way of the invalid, who did much of his thinking in bed and could not write himself. But Mrs. Green set to work at once learning to write with her left hand.

One of her first practice pages, which she was about to destroy with the rest, her husband took quietly and put in his pocket. Years afterward when ill health seemed unbearable and in discouragement he felt that he could not work he used to take out that piece of paper, a living record of his wife's triumph over difficulty. When he saw the painful patient strokes by which Mrs. Green had learned to write with her left hand he could work on with something near to inspiration.

Poison of the Centipede.
The centipede is popularly supposed to carry a sting on each foot, but I have several times handled one after its head was removed without the claws producing any result. It is the first pair of claws only that are venomous, being hollow and provided with poison bags like a snake's fang. The largest I ever saw was eleven inches in length, a greasy creature. A bite from one of this size would most likely have been fatal to a man in weak health. The tarantula, though its powers of offense are nothing like those of the scorpion or centipede, is, however, a more unpopular character than either. The horror of these large spiders entertained by many people is curious and unaccountable. I have seen Australian bushmen, who in everyday life scarcely seemed to understand danger, turn white as a sheet at the sight of a small "rainslope," as they called it.—Chambers' Journal.

A Thing of Beauty.

Delights of the Seaside Beautifully Pictured by the Atlantic Hotel in an elegant Announcement.

As lovely an announcement as any ever issued by a hotel in the South is that just published by the Atlantic Hotel, of Morehead City, in a beautiful circular of twelve pages, attractive and inviting, a thing of real art. The season opens June first. All persons desiring a copy of the announcement may secure it by addressing a card to Frank P. Morton, manager, Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, N. C. It is splendidly illustrated and the pleasures it recites and pictures make the wish to go to the seashore irresistible.

It is stated, the Summer season of 1910, will mark a new era in the history of the Atlantic Hotel—a number of improvements have been made, new granite and board walks laid, new piazza built, and tennis courts added. The ball room which is of enormous proportions, has been beautifully decorated, and many other features added for the comfort of its guests.

Morehead City is justly famed for the excellent fishing in the matthees waters that are found within the confines of this endless expanse of pleasure grounds, where myriads of the "Finny tribe," disport themselves.

The Atlantic Hotel is preparing to entertain this season the largest crowd in its history.

DECAY OF TIN.

Remarkable Alteration Which Takes Place in the Metal.

Anything made of tin. It seems, is doomed to a brief existence. This metal is subject to a remarkable kind of alteration, a species of disease to which it is liable. When exposed to the air tin undergoes no chemical change, as do iron and copper, which, of course, chemically combine with the oxygen or with water. The tin, however, still remains metallic tin, but gradually becomes gray and dull and falls to fine powder.

The disease is "catching." It infects or induces the same change in other masses of tin in the immediate neighborhood. We are told that in a Russian Imperial magazine, in place of tin uniform buttons, little heaps of powder were found. A consignment of Banka tin sent from Rotterdam to Moscow in 1877 arrived at the latter place in the form of powder. This alteration is due to a change in the internal crystalline structure of the metal and is analogous to the slow transformation of molten sulphur to rhombic sulphur. As a result, objects of tin of archaeological interest are rare. Those that have been found have been in the form of earthenware vessels, knobs, etc., which have been found in the Swiss lake dwellings coated with tin foil. Cassiterite or stannite is the single ore from which the tin has been obtained in any quantity.—Knowledge and Scientific News, London.

PLACID MERCHANT.

He Has Some Regard For the Social Side of Trade.

The summer visitor in a small seaport town was amazed and amused at the assortment of merchandise displayed in the little store at the head of the wharf. The showcase was devoted to an assortment of candy at one end and a lot of cigars and tobacco at the other end and no barrier between. Next to the showcase stood a motor engine valued at several hundred dollars.

"Thill thing to please the proprietor, the proprietor remarked that even the large department stores in Boston could not boast of such a collection."

"Well," he said, "I ain't aping them stores. I can tell you. I aim to keep what my folks want. When a man wants an engine for his boat he wants it, and if the fish are out of the water he wants to send him to the bottom for it. He wants it when he does then a little more."

"I do it like the way they do business in them big stores, anyway. Why, when you go into a store up to Boston the first thing you know somebody asks you what you want."

"Now, I never do anything like that. If a man comes into my place I pass the time of day and ask him to set, and after he's set and talked a while if he wants anything he'll tell me."

"I never pester a man to buy. Maybe he ain't come to buy; maybe he's come to talk."—Youth's Companion.

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halpern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

CASTE IN THE ARMY.

Civilians Find It Difficult to Understand Military Discipline.

One thing not commonly understood among civilians is the completeness of the barrier which divides army officers from the soldiers, or, as they are more generally called, the "men." It is always vastly amusing to those familiar with the service to observe the errors in this respect frequently made by the novelist and the playwright.

Personal qualifications have nothing whatever to do with the matter. A soldier may be a gentleman who has enlisted with the purpose of obtaining a commission, yet there can be between him and his officers no social intercourse of any sort, and severe penalties would be inflicted upon the officer who would attempt to disregard the rule.

It might seem that this enforcement of a caste sense would result in much hard feeling on the side of the men. Such, however, is not actually the case. It is taken for granted and recognized as conducive to "good order and military discipline." It is a military regulation like any other and implies no disgrace. Directly a soldier's enlistment is out or directly he rises from the ranks the prohibition is removed.—Delineator.

From Sickness to "Excellent Health."

Roundabout.

The very budding barrister assumed the approved legal look of indisputable superiority.

"Now, my good lady," he observed, shaking an admonitory forefinger at the woman in the witness box, "you do not appreciate the gravity of the question. Endeavor to concentrate what brain power nature has endowed you with and answer me. What relationship does the defendant bear to you?"

"Right-ho!" responded the good lady. "Is father's cousin was my cousin once removed, and 'is mother, marry-in' me uncle's only brother!"

"My good lady," interrupted the bud despairingly. "I am not here to solve puzzles!"

"Well, I'm blowed!" ejaculated the lady. "You was talkin' jest nah as though you'd cornered most o' the brain pahr goin'. If you 'adn't swanked quite so much I'd 'a' told yer plainly an' simply! 'E'se me brother!"—London Answers.

Old Moon Beliefs.

The health, growth and development of children and animals were years ago supposed to be influenced by the moon. If the sign was right at the time of birth they would be well formed and intellectual, but if it was wrong there was no telling what sort of creatures they would become. Every worthless fellow, every dog, rooting hog, fence jumping cow or kicking horse was believed to have been born under an unfavorable phase of the moon of night. Queer people or those who were of hateful disposition were children of the dark moon, with the sign below the heart.

A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said:

"I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one. I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished. They thought that there was smell and smoke from an oil stove, and that it heated a room just like any other stove. I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now, not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost."

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking. Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove means to you? No more coal to carry, no more coming to the dinner table so tired out that you can't eat. Just light a Perfection Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven. But the room isn't heated. There is no smoke, no smell, no outside heat, no drudgery in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

It has a Cabinet Top with a shelf for keeping plates and food hot. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.
